

Managing for Resilience Workshop

Monday 2 December 2019, Mercure Townsville

Objectives

- Build an understanding of what “managing for resilience” means for coral reefs
- Share leading practice examples of how resilience-based management can be applied
- Open a dialogue about resilience-based management and the tools available for coral reef managers.

Agenda summary

Welcome
Traditional Owner perspective
Overview of resilience-based management, its benefits and how it differs from regular protected area management including an overview of coral reef ecosystem resilience dynamics
What resilience-based management for coral reefs looks like using case studies
Coral reef resilience assessments
Coral reef Resilience Network: resources and tools for managers
The Resilient Reefs Initiative: introduction to new global program and preview of resilience strategy at Ningaloo Coast
Scaling up resilience-based management of coral reefs: small group discussions
Reporting back on how to apply approaches
Wrap up
ICRI General Meeting 34 Welcome Cocktail Reception